All these people need to make them healthy, cheerful and of sound appetite is a box of Mi-O-Na Tablets.

The stomach of a dyspeptic is overworked and run down. It needs help to digest the food, but more than that, it needs a prescription that will cleanse, renovate, strengthen and put electricity into the stomach walls.

Mi-O-Na is the prescription that will do this and do it so promptly that you'll wonder why you didn't try it before.

It stops belching of gas and distress after eating. It is undoubtedly the greatest stomach tonic ever given to the public by a specialist in stomach diseases.

SULPHUR CLEARS UP ROUGH OR RED SKIN

Face, Neck, and Arms Easily Made Smooth, Says Specialist

Any breaking out of the skin, even hives, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation begins at once to soothe irritated skin and heal eruptions such as rash, pimples and ring worms.

It seldom fails to remove the torment and discomfort, and you do not have to wait for relief from embarrassment. Improvements quickly show. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.

NARVA CENTER FOR SIBERIAN RELIEF

Thousands of Prisoners on Way There Where Organizations Care for Them.

BERLIN, Nov. 30.—When Peter the Great of Russia built a fortress at Narva on the border of what is now Estonia, and called it "Hunger Fortress," he could not foresee that the day would come when thousands of wretched men and women would learn for the first time in many months or even years what it means not to be hungry. That is what the developments of the last months have brought to pass.

It is at Narva that the returning prisoners from Siberia—prisoners of war and also civilians—are cared for until they can be sent to their homes. Narva means for them the beginning of the end of their sufferings. Not the least of these sufferings is the journey that brings them to this Estonian city. "Special through trains"—consisting entirely of box cars—take at their best five weeks from Irkutsk, and the trip often stretches out to forty-five days or even more. The travelers have no opportunity to wash themselves on the way, except as they leave the train near some stream; they cannot wash their clothing; they have no spare socks, and their feet are barely suited to keep body and soul together. And all of them are weak from years of hunger and other privations and many are diseased.

AMERICAN WORK VOLUNTARY. It is the recently organized Fridtjof Nansen Relief that is directing the work. Committees from the Central Powers are assisting the Russian Soviet Government has thus far worked loyally with the organization, and America is represented by Y. M. C. A. The American work is voluntary, and the expenses are borne by the Y. M. C. A. alone, for the American Government shares with the French Government the distinction of having refused to have anything to do with Nansen's scheme. Washington was afraid that the funds "would get into the wrong hands." France demanded as a condition precedent to helping, that assurances be given that all French prisoners would be moved before anybody else was attended to. Such assurances could not be given. England is helping on the work, which is being chiefly supported by the Central Powers and the neutrals, including especially Scandinavia.

THOUSANDS OF PRISONERS. It is difficult to ascertain the number of prisoners being released. It is hoped that there are not more than 50,000, but this figure is largely guesswork. There are some women and children among these. The prisoners come from at least ten different nations, now that their former countries have been split up and divided by the Peace of Versailles. Most of them will have to spend the coming winter in Russia.

AT THE THEATERS

Turner and Charlie Ward. The chorus is good and the show is handsomely outfitted.

Among the several specialties introduced the harp solos of Marie Parks merited the applause given the dainty little performer.

JIMMIE COOPER AND HIS 'BEAUTY REVUE' AT FOLLY
Patrons of the Folly Theater can well be assured of a good, rollicking burlesque show this week as Jimmie Cooper and his "Beauty Revue" hold the boards. It is a big joy jubilee, full of real comedy situations and snappy, tuneful song hits. The scenic and costume work is bright and elaborate, and display good judgment and taste in their selections.

There is introduced a scene called "The Moving Picture Stars Revue," a scene in a Turkish bath, and a dramatic hit, "The Party."

The company supporting Mr. Cooper, who has earned stellar honors, include beautiful Ada Lum, the Chinese-American prima donna, the principal feminine part; dainty Princess Livingston, and comedy Rose Hemly, Marty Collins, Eddie Hall, Johnny Bell, Bernie Green, and a large chorus of youthful beauties.

'PEARLS OF PEKIN' IS HEADLINER AT COSMOS

"The Pearls of Pekin," the headline attraction at the Cosmos Theater this week has all the earmarks of the musical extravaganza of burlesque, toned down in dialogue, but beautifully staged and costumed. Its scenes open in a Chinese laundry and develop into a multi-colored cabaret, with pretty music and comedy features. It features Billy Bence, character comedian; Belle White and Eselle Bates, with a galaxy of stately and pretty girls.

Arthur Finn and company, with "Bagpipes in the Trenches," an amusing black-face number, shares honors with the headliner.

Other acts include Legal and comedy in one of the most amusing fake trick acts that has ever appeared at the Cosmos, while Jimmy and a large Carroll, with "Rag Ends and Tag Ends of Songs and Smiles," stand out well in the entertainment.

Goldie and Ward do some clever dancing; Robert Gilles gives excellent bird imitations and Peyton and Ward in "Friscoettes" provide a unique bit of jazz acrobatics in the form of dancing that makes their act one of the strongest of the bill.

Anita Stewart in "Harriet the Piper" is the added matinee attraction. Buster Keaton in "The Week," an amusing comedy with the International News lead the other films shown at all performances.

"GIRL OF MY HEART" AND GOOD VAUDEVILLE

An excellent vaudeville program and the premier showing in Washington of Shirley Mason in her new William Fox production, "Girl of My Heart," combine to furnish exceptionally good entertainment at the Strand Theater this week. The bill is presented in a new and interesting way through Sunday next, Josie Flynn's "Fashionable Mistrust" are offered as the leading attraction of the vaudeville offerings. Beautifully staged and costumed and presenting a pettite of clever and charming girls, every one of whom in addition to being most classy to look at, can sing and dance, this number with its taken a little comedienne as leading lady. On the approval of all present from the very start and will undoubtedly prove one of the most popular attractions seen at the Strand this season.

Cowboy Williams and Daisy open the bill with what are announced as spectacular Western frolics, but which turn out to be one or two songs very well sung by Miss Daisy and feats in strength and speed in juggling in which large steel cannon balls play an important part.

Lee Mason assisted by Stan Scott at the piano, give a delightful little revue of songs with piano accompaniment as very favorably received. Pearl Abbott and company offer an appealing little one-act comedy which is decidedly different both from the standpoint of plot, conception and dialogue. Tom Mahoney, the Irish chair man in "At the Old Carrier's Meeting," made his audience a part of the meeting, and had every one working with him before he had been on the stage very long and as a result, a good time was had by all.

It is doubtful if Shirley Mason has ever been seen in a more delightful and charming role than that of a young woman in "Girl of My Heart," her latest William Fox production, which is the main attraction on the photo-dramatic half of the program. The story depicted contains tremendous heart interest, and includes a delightful love theme, as the title suggests. Based upon the experiences of an orphan girl, the story takes one to a Southern home of wealth and thence to the West and Indian country, where the heroine and the young man she loves are pre-occupied into various perils born of intrigue and hatred.

The details of the story's development are most skillfully handled and the production is all that could be asked.

Orchestral features, in which Arthur J. Maxwell, conductor, has included as overture what is described as a trombone spasm by Hacker, entitled "A Slippery Place," together with short film subjects of an interesting and amusing nature complete two hours of solid amusement.

POLICE HEAD ASKS GREEN'ICH REFORM

N. Y. Commissioner Says N. Y. Village Is Too Bad for Him to Picture.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—The utter reform of bad spots in Greenwich Village and their eventual respectability is predicted by Commissioner Richard Enright in his report, of the operations of the police department for the year 1919.

The report is a book of 304 pages, yet it is all too small, the commissioner says, for any pen to convey an adequate chronicle of the many interesting incidents indelibly written on the blotter of the department.

"For a year or two prior to January 1, 1918," the commissioner says on page 34, "there had grown up in Greenwich Village a series of Bohemian restaurants which had attracted to it a host of sightseers and morbid-minded persons with a jaded appetite for sensation. Among those who came were many of the degenerate type of both sexes, who participated in the absurd diversions offered at these places at high prices, and danced to jazz music with all of the ridiculous and sometimes suggestive and disgusting conduct which is characteristic of such resorts."

ACCUSES OUTSIDE PEOPLE. "A Chinese funeral or a Hopi Indian snake dance would be far more interesting and entertaining, but a certain foolish and degenerate appetite for the unusual or sensational, mostly repressed by sightseeing car graters and other parasites, kept these places alive and proved that Barnum was right regarding the mental capacity of some people."

"The conditions immediately received the attention of this department, with the result that several of them discontinued business, while those that remained are obliged to keep within the law. As they are no longer allowed to flout the law or to cater to the depraved tastes of their regular clientele, this section will soon become unattractive to the sightseer and will be restored to its rightful status of a respectable residential and business neighborhood."

Praise for the police force in its every activity, particularly in its handling of perplexing conditions in the case of plot, conception and dialogue. Tom Mahoney, the Irish chair man in "At the Old Carrier's Meeting," made his audience a part of the meeting, and had every one working with him before he had been on the stage very long and as a result, a good time was had by all.

SLOPPY TEACHERS ROUSE PHILLIE IRE

Instructors of Young Idea Urged To Impress Pupils by "Dolling Up."

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 30.—American school teachers are advised to "dollar up" by the Civic Club of Philadelphia in order to make a bit with and impress their pupils.

This came out of a meeting of the Committee on the Extension of Good Citizenship and the committee further believes that a few inches off the bottom of school teachers' skirts and a few curls and fringes to the hair would not be out of place in the classroom.

Perhaps the passing of the standard dress of the school teachers will be noted in the future. Small Johnny may be surprised, but not displeased to find his teacher with car puffs tomorrow morning.

Or maybe she might have her eyebrows pulled out or her freckles removed. In any event, she will probably turn her skirt up four or five inches and sport those French shoes with the instep straps.

Incidentally they may assure the teacher, who came into the office a few days ago, saying that if she didn't have a job in the school room she would hob her hair, that it will be perfectly all right to go ahead with the scissors.

The point made by the Civic Club women was the fact that more up-to-date dress of teachers might serve to hold the attention of the pupils better. Well, the pupils are only human, after all.

GIOLITTI FEARS NO OUTBREAK IN ITALY

Premier Has Faith That His Country Will Pass Safely Through Crisis.

By EARLE C. REEVES.
International News Service.
LONDON, Nov. 30.—There is neither a swerving toward military dictatorship nor a swing toward revolution in Italy, the Italian premier, Signor Giolitti, declares in an interview with a correspondent of the Manchester Guardian.

There is a widespread confidence among the people of Italy, the writer declares, that Giolitti is succeeding and will continue to succeed in his efforts at bringing the country safely through to recovery.

NO DICTATORSHIP. "I read that Italy is on the verge of a military dictatorship," the premier is quoted as saying. "You can be sure that such a danger is absurd. In 1898 Italy made her brief and disastrous experiment in military dictatorship, which served to strengthen and rejuvenate the Liberal policy to which I consecrated my life and work in five cabinets. I am faithful to parliamentary prerogatives, and during twenty years' leadership I think I have demonstrated that the development of the country is only possible through civil liberty.

"Some violent remains of war psychology are scattered over Europe, and will not disappear very soon. But Italy, even less than other countries, believes in any militarist policy, the desire for which is only in the dreams of a solitary literary man."

CAN RELY ON ARMY. "The country and the government can rely on the absolute discipline of the army."

"Your paper, discussing our recent troubles among the metal workers, has been clearly that there is no revolution. Our working classes are gradually securing their economic rights. I do not fear them. I support them, and the policy of the present cabinet remains my former one, without the least reactionary tendency."

To an inquiry about the rumor that D'Annunzio plans a march from Fiume through Italy, Giolitti said: "D'Annunzio has not moved a step out of Fiume, nor will he if he understands the temper of the country."
